

Autism Education Trust Tier 1: Making sense of Autism

Woodfield teaching school is pleased to be a licenced hub of the Autism Education Trust. The AET is a programme supported by the Department for Education, which offers nationally delivered face-to-face training for professionals working across all education settings.

Course Outline

This 90 minute session will provide basic autism awareness training for all staff within school-age education setting, mainstream and specialist services.

It will support participants to:

- Identify the four key areas of difference that need to be taken into account
- Know the importance of understanding the individual pupil and their profile of strengths and areas for development
- Identify the key areas to help pupils on the autism spectrum build positive relationships with staff, peers, families and people in their community
- Develop an awareness of the sensory and communication differences that pupils may experience
