

SEND Reviewer Training

Woodfield Teaching School would like to present the opportunity for schools to review their provision for pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities using a three way peer model. This will enable built-in Quality Assurance measures and an opportunity for peer to peer support. The outcomes of these reviews will inform future planning for support from the Local Authority, Teaching schools and Brent Schools Partnership. This training event will give SENCOs and inclusion Managers the toolkit along side the knowledge and skills to enable these reviews to take place.

Objectives for the day:

- To consider the value of peer-to-peer review in the context of national SEND developments.
- To become familiar with the SEND Review Guidance and the peer review process.
- To provide a set of practical strategies and tools for the evaluation of SEND provision.
- To consider next steps for establishing the review process across Brent schools.
